

Monika Metzger

Faculty Member, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Regional Director, Central and South America Regions, International Outreach Program, Memphis, Tennessee.

Dr. Monika Metzger is a full member at St Jude Children's Research Hospital in the Departments of Oncology and Global Pediatric Medicine. Dr. Metzger's primary clinical focus is treating pediatric lymphoma patients, particularly those with Hodgkin lymphoma. She is the principal investigator for the Pediatric Hodgkin lymphoma Consortium, and the investigator of the first pediatric frontline protocol for Hodgkin lymphoma that incorporates targeted therapy. In addition, Dr. Metzger is involved with the St Jude Global efforts as the regional director for Central and South America to help improve local pediatric cancer care in the regions.

Dr. Metzger earned her doctorate of medicine from Rheinisch-Westfaelisch Technische Hochschule in Aachen, Germany. She joined St. Jude in 2002 to pursue her fellowship in Pediatric Hematology-Oncology and joined the faculty in 2005.